REFLECTION: WHAT'S MY LINE

Ever face that Monday morning mirror with the sinking feeling that you're living someone else's life? As coffee jump starts your brain, do you hear a voice muttering " this can't be all I'm meant to do"? Take heart, oh weary soul - you're not crazy, you're right! So often Christians creep through our lives with a growing sense of daily dissatisfaction, wondering why faith isn't enough. Why aren't we content? The answer is as plain as the entries on our daily planner, or rather the entries that aren't in our planners. Christians need to share God's love. The need to reach out in compassion, to be God's hands is encoded into our very beings. And when we ignore that compulsion to help we're miserable. We're neglecting the purpose for which we were created. Jesus knew that . He told the disciples "for this purpose I have come" and kept His eyes steadily on the goal. As His children can we do any less? Stop ignoring the prompting of your spirit this week and find your true career: sharing God's love with the world. You'll be amazed at the benefits package.

THE VOICE OF GOD

"In the beginning, the Word already existed," says John. And now? Hurling through the blackness of space, can we still hear the echoes of the Word? Still feel the vibrations?

Listen. You'll hear it. Each time the leaves rustle on a summer afternoon. You'll hear it.

Each time a mother sings lullabies to her child. You'll hear it.

Each time an old man looks with affection into the eyes of his lifelong beloved. You'll hear it.

Each time, amidst the insanity of this world's hatred, an act of kindness is done. You'll hear it.

Stop. Listen to the heartbeat of the universe, and you'll hear the voice of God.

"COMING TOGETHER.....BELIEVING IN ONE ANOTHER"
